Arapahoe County’s 2011 annual report available in local newspapers and County buildings throughout May and June

LITTLETON, CO --- Beginning May 3, nearly 140,000 Arapahoe County households will receive a copy of the County’s 2011 Annual Performance Report in their local newspaper.

The 2011 Annual Report – Getting to Know Arapahoe – Your County from A to Z – provides an overview of county government, including information about the wide range of programs and services offered by Arapahoe County.

“As commissioners, we are often asked about Arapahoe County and how we differ from city and state government,” said Commissioner Susan Beckman, who serves as Board Chair Pro Tem. “Our 2011 report provides an overview of our services, highlights our accomplishments and emphasizes our commitment to provide exceptional services, while at the same time being good stewards of your tax dollars.”

Residents will find a tear-out page of phone numbers, e-mail and web addresses to connect them to the variety of programs and services offered by Arapahoe County. The report also includes a list of County departments and elected offices, a commissioner district map and an outline of services accessible through the County’s web site at www.co.arapahoe.co.us.

Citizens also can read about Align Arapahoe and how Arapahoe County is using its performance management system to be the most efficient and effective county government in Colorado.

Arapahoe County produces its annual report in a newspaper format because at roughly 22 cents a copy, it is the most affordable and efficient manner to get this information in the hands of citizens.

Copies of the annual performance report will be available in the May 3 editions of the Denver Post, Aurora Sentinel and Buckley Guardian. The report also will be distributed in the Centennial Citizen, Englewood Herald, Glendale Cherry Creek Chronicle, I-70 Scout, Littleton Independent and The Villager Newspaper.

Copies of the report also are available in Arapahoe County government locations, and a .pdf version of the report is available electronically through the web site at www.co.arapahoe.co.us.
