Arapahoe County Motor Vehicle Office in Littleton reopens Monday

Pest Control Company does not find additional bed bugs; office treated as a precaution

Littleton, CO --- The Arapahoe County Administration Motor Vehicle and Driver’s License Office at 5334 S. Prince St., Littleton, reopened today after a thorough inspection did not find additional bed bugs.

On Friday, Arapahoe County closed the office after a discovery of a bed bug in a workstation. Arapahoe County brought in a company that specializes in detecting bed bugs, including the use of a dog trained to detect bed bugs. Levi, a Rat Terrier/Jack Russell mix, inspected the Clerk and Recorder’s Office, Administration lobby level and public areas of the Third and Fourth Floors.

Levi did not detect any bed bugs and his nose is pretty accurate. According to published reports, trained dogs have roughly a 90 percent to 98 percent accuracy in finding live bed bugs or their eggs.

As a precaution, a pest control company experienced in eradicating bed bugs was brought in over the weekend to spray the main lobby and the entire Motor Vehicle office area.
