New name, same great service.

Arapahoe County departments renamed to better reflect services

Arapahoe County's Development Services and Infrastructure Management and Support Services departments have new names.

Effective immediately, Development Services and Infrastructure Management is Public Works and Development - a name that is much easier to recognize and better identifies the department's mission.

Public Works and Development provides many services through its three divisions: Engineering, Planning and Zoning, and Building. The Engineering division provides Road and Bridge, Traffic/Transportation, Capital Improvements, Storm Water Management and Mapping/GIS services. Planning and Zoning oversees the orderly development of unincorporated Arapahoe County, as well as the Open Space program, Zoning Code Enforcement and Mosquito and Animal Control programs. The Building division oversees the plan review, permitting and inspection of all building construction in unincorporated Arapahoe County.

Public Works and Development also is under contract to provide public works services to the City of Centennial. Public Works and Development, overseen by Director Dave Schmit, is located at 10730 E. Briarwood Ave., Centennial and can be reached at 720-874-6500 or by e-mail at publicworks@co.arapahoe.co.us.

Support Services is renamed Facilities and Fleet Management, which better reflects the department's focus of managing and maintaining the County's buildings and fleet operations.

Located in the County Administration Building, 5334 S. Prince St. in Littleton, Facilities and Fleet Management, is overseen by Director Bob Patterson. The department's two divisions include Facilities Management and Operations.

Facilities Management consists of Facilities Management, Project Management and Custodial and Maintenance services. The Operations division, overseen by Assistant Director Tom Sullivan, includes Fleet Management, Office Services and the Arapahoe County Recreation District.

In addition to the department's new name, two employees have joined Facilities and Fleet Management. Bob Roby, Finance and Administrative Services Division Manager and Jeff Baker, Total Quality Management Administrator, who both worked for the Department of Human Services, join Facilities and Fleet Management as Deputy Director and Manager of Project Managers, respectively. As Deputy Director, Roby will oversee Facilities Management, Project Management and Custodial and Maintenance Services.
